Item 6. Contracts, Arrangements, Understandings or Relationships with Respect to Securities of the Issuer.

FAE extended a "Standstill Agreement", originally dated September 1, 1989, until January 4, 1998. Such agreement provides the executive management and Board of McFarland Energy certain assurances, voluntary restrictions on purchasing or selling Shares of McFarland and voting limitations intended to keep FAE in the position of a friendly investor that supports the incumbent management's views. The Standstill Agreement originally applied to all 400,000 Shares of McFarland owned by FAEH and its subsidiaries. During February 1997, McFarland Energy removed the Standstill Agreement restrictions on 100,000 Shares of McFarland which provided FAEH and its subsidiaries with the opportunity to sell up to 100,000 Shares of McFarland.
